

M'KINLEY HOME

Being Converted Into a Hospital For the Sisters

NOT MANY CHANGES

The McKinley home on North Market street which was recently purchased by two philanthropic citizens of Canton as a hospital of the Sisters of Notre Dame, is now being completely renovated and undergoing extensive repairs preparatory to its intended use. The work is being carried on under the supervision of those who will have charge of the place.

The front lawn is at the present time torn up with an excavation for new sewage and water pipes. The plumbing of the house will be in part changed to suit the new conditions. Many of the rooms are being replastered and some of the interior wood-work is being renewed.

In the northwest corner of the second story several sections of the siding and roof of the house have been removed and are being replaced with sections of glass. Opalescent glass is used up to about five feet from the floor and the remainder is plain glass. This will be the operating ward. With the exception of a new board here and there is the only case in which the exterior appearance of the house will be changed. In general it is still Canton's old landmark.

The interior order of the rooms will not be changed much. They will be arranged into wards in the manner found in any well appointed hospital. The drive at the side of the house will remain as it has always been. The flower gardens in the lawn will be kept up as they have been formerly. The sisters are working on these at the present time.

The work which has been going on for some time will probably be finished soon. After the house itself is again ready for use, it will be some time before it will be furnished and ready as a hospital.

CANTON OUTING CLUB

Pitched Tents on Banks of Lake Ploss—Members Report Outing Best Ever.

Special to Morning News.

Oxford, Mich., Aug. 9.—The members of the Canton Outing club, who are here spending their vacations in tents stretched under the boughs of mighty pines and oaks on the banks of Lake Ploss, a silvery sheet of water, hemmed in by stately trees, are having the best outing ever enjoyed by them. This is the fifth successive year that the club has pitched its five tents on these moss-covered banks and each visit to the place seems to add additional charms. As yet no big fish have been caught, but plenty of blue gills, perch, sunfish and catfish have been landed to supply the table. Turtles do not appear to be as plentiful as they have been in past years, but fifteen or twenty good ones have already been placed in the live box or have been devoured. The frog hunters are having good luck also—some of those hooked being very large.

The weather here was extremely hot for a few days during the past week, but a good breeze is generally blowing in the grove, which has an elevated position.

The club landed on August 1 and matters were past shaping themselves properly, when a miniature cyclone struck the camp August 4. The main tent in the group—one 18x36, in which the male members of the party sleep—was blown down and considerably damaged. This storm was accompanied by thunder and lightning and when the tent was struck by the wind it resembled the starting of the balloon "Ohio," with 50 or more ropes dangling on the ground. Luckily no person was in the tent at the time, for the storm, lasting about fifteen minutes happened about seven in the evening. All the wearing apparel in the tent was water-soaked, likewise the beddings and the campers were compelled to sleep in a little frame cottage and under smaller tents.

Those who have composed the party thus far are: Morris Schmeider, Geo. King, Orrin J. Fielding, John Mobley, Arthur Lemmon, Herman Rael, Emory Yoder, Will Thom, W. W. Fielding, Mr. and Mrs. James Bernhardt and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. St. Clair, Chief of Police H. W. Smith, wife and daughter Helen, Mr. and Mrs. H. August Smith and Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Talbot are expected in a few days. Other members of the organization and invited guests will join the party during the present week.

Sunday was an unusually quiet day in the camp, although a number of visitors were present. While Oakland county was one of those to go "dry" at a recent election there seems to be as much beer as ever sold within its borders. Open saloons, without the payment of any state tax whatever handle beer in bottles, but it is called "Vin." If a person presents himself at a bar in Oxford he simply tells the bartender that he wants a glass of "that" and the red amber fluid stands before him. If he desires a nip of good liquor, all he needs to say is "Give me a ginger ale," and there you are. The dispenser of wet goods has his stock of "that" shipped to him in sugar barrels and enough of this kind of sugar is sent into the county to sweeten the entire state.

Cleveland—Judge Levine holds that the police must prosecute criminals without delay. Many are unjustly held he says.

Claims Revolver Was Taken.

Joseph Spangler, living in the west end of the city, has filed two affidavits against William T. Graham. It appears that both parties reside in the same house and Spangler alleges that during the absence of his family that Graham entered his place and carried off a revolver. The other charge is for trespassing. The cases were filed in Justice Barriek's court, the arrest was made by Constable McCurdy and when arraigned Graham entered a plea of not guilty and gave a bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance August 13.

This is the open season for shooting the chutes.

CREAMERY PLANT BURNED; LOSS $3,000

Millersburg, O., Aug. 11.—Fire broke out last midnight in the Millersburg Creamery plant and owing to the distance from the city hall where the fire apparatus is located, the whole plant burned to the ground and is a total loss. The buildings were owned by parties here, but the machinery by Lodi, O., men, who were operating it. The loss is estimated at $3000, or more, with but little insurance. Cause of fire unknown.

RED HOT CAMPAIGN PROGRESSING IN CUBA

Washington, Aug. 11.—While voters in the United States are struggling with campaign issues a red hot campaign will be in progress in Cuba for the election of a president. Ballotting will take place there on December 1, and the candidate will probably be inaugurated next February when the American troops will be withdrawn and the provisional government under Governor Magoon will be terminated.

Returns from the provisional and municipal elections held in Cuba last Sunday were both a surprise and a shock to the officials of the state and war departments. While Governor Magoon was instructed to maintain an absolutely impartial attitude in his dealing with the contentious Cuban politicians, there is a feeling that from the viewpoint of the Washington government, the success of the Liberal party would have been more acceptable.

The despatch from Havana says that the Liberals are trying to show a fusion of its two factions, headed respectively by Alfred Zayas and Jose Miguel Gomez, is thought to presage a bitter fight for the presidency in the event that that these two factions get together to overcome the advantage the Conservatives seem to have gained.

With the two factions of the Liberal party united on the one hand, and the Conservatives encouraged by their successes in the recent elections, Cuban politics would be divided exactly as it was at the time of the recent intervention, when President Palma resigned and the United States was compelled to intervene, under the Platt amendment in order to prevent a civil war.

During President Palma's administration there were three principal political parties, the Moderates, the Nationals, and small independent radical party. Palma declined to affiliate with either of these organizations and endeavored to be impartial in the distribution of patronage. Finding that attitude impracticable, he took the side of the Moderate party and Nationals, and a group of disaffected Moderates, formed the Liberal party.

With the Cuban people divided upon practically the same alignment as they were at the time of the revolution of 1906, government officials believe the new government and the election next winter will be set by many dangers and that it may be short-lived.

COURT HOUSE

Receiver Makes Report.

William E. Davis receiver for the Electric Filter company, of Alliance, has filed with the clerk of courts a list of the assets and liabilities of the company. The total assets are set down as being $5062.74, while the liabilities total $3290.16.

The assets separated according to statute are as follows: Personal goods and chattels, $1056.74; moneys, $14; all other claims, $3992.

The account of the liabilities shows that the company has an even thirty creditors, many of whom are located in Alliance. Those from other cities are found, for the most part, in New York and other eastern cities.

Report of Vital Statistics.

The report of vital statistics just completed by Probate Judge Bow shows a great increase in the work of the office, along certain lines, over other years and bears out the assertion made in all the court house offices that the business of the county is rapidly growing. The increase of business over last year is estimated at about fifteen per cent.

That part of the report not hitherto published shows the following data:

Letters of guardianship issued during the year that ended March 31, 1908, 263. The wards for whose interest the letters were issued were divided as follows: One hundred and thirty-two children; one drunkard; one idiot; thirteen insane, and fourteen imbeciles.

The number of wills probated during the year is recorded as 172. The letters of administration as 340, and 290 estates are shown to have been fully administered and the final accounts filed.

Eighteen children were sent to the industrial schools of the state during the year. Of this number eleven were boys and seven were girls.

A suit in replevin has been filed in common pleas court by Attorney J. A. McLaughlin on behalf of John V. Cage, of Antelope county, Nebraska. R. Frank Wilson, sheriff of Stark county, is named as defendant. The plaintiff claims to be the rightful owner of a lot of household goods, levied on by the sheriff in connection with the suit filed against George B. Laird and Mrs. A. F. Cage by Frederick Loeffler, by reason of the violation by the defendants in the last named suit of the terms of a mortgage executed by them to him. The allegation is made that his title to the property in question has not been lost and the plaintiff asks that the goods be turned over to him.

CANAL FULTON.

Canal Fulton, Aug. 11.—On Friday, while W. B. Anderson, who resides on the John Miller heirs' farm, two miles south of this place, was plowing his plow struck an obstruction, which he thought to be an ordinary stone, and from the metallic sound he thought his plowshare was shattered, but upon examination he found the point to be intact. He then tried to investigate the obstruction, but as it was still deeply imbedded in the earth he plowed on around, and was then enabled to dig it from the earth. Seeing it was no ordinary stone, he brought it to town, and all who have seen it are of the opinion that it is a part of a meteor. It is 30 inches long, of an irregular shape, being nine inches wide at one end, and one-third distance from that end it takes toward the other end terminating in a blunt point. It weighs 48½ pounds. When struck with a hammer it produces a clear metallic sound, is of a grayish color on the surface and black within. Lewis Shafer, a student at Heidelberg College, says it very much resembles a specimen of a meteor in the museum at his college. It is recalled by an old resident of the locality where it was found that some 25 or 30 years ago a meteor was observed to descend in that locality. It was located on a hillside, the large end being farther in the soil, the small end being struck by the plow. It is on exhibition at F. M. McGruer's drug store, where it is attracting considerable attention.
